

International Wealth, Residency & Offshore Structuring

One Professional Platform for Your International Financial and Business Needs

The international financial world has changed.

Today, entrepreneurs, investors, families and internationally mobile professionals can access a wide range of jurisdictions offering different combinations of tax efficiency, financial services, corporate flexibility, residency opportunities, asset protection and international investment solutions.

The challenge is no longer simply finding a country with lower taxation.

The real challenge is understanding which jurisdiction, structure and financial solution are appropriate for your individual objectives.

This is where Fintech SCB provides a comprehensive international advisory service.

Why clients choose Fintech SCB

One international platform

Multiple solutions

Professional coordination

International expertise

Personalized strategy

Online accessibility

From residency and international banking to corporate structures, trusts, foundations and wealth planning, our objective is to provide clients with a complete international solution.

Our services

International online consulting

Our advisory services are available online, allowing clients to discuss their requirements directly with our international team regardless of their location.

- international wealth structuring
- business internationalization
- residency planning
- international banking
- corporate structures
- trusts and foundations
- investment structures
- asset protection

Tax residency & international residency solutions

Where an individual lives can have a fundamental impact on their financial and tax position.

- Our approach goes beyond simply identifying a residency program
- We consider residency + banking + business + investments + wealth structure + international mobility
- The objective is to create an integrated international solution

International banking

Access to international banking can be an important component of global wealth management and international business.

- personal international accounts
- corporate accounts
- multi-currency accounts
- international payment solutions
- wealth-management banking
- offshore banking solutions
- international financial institutions
- banking structures connected to international companies

Offshore & international company structures

An international company can serve many legitimate purposes.

- LLCs
- corporations
- international companies
- holding companies
- trading companies
- investment companies
- special-purpose vehicles
- international business structures

Delaware LLC & corporate solutions

Delaware remains one of the world's most recognized corporate jurisdictions.

- Delaware LLC formation
- Delaware Corporation formation
- Registered Agent
- Certificate of Formation
- Operating Agreement
- EIN assistance
- Corporate documentation
- Ongoing corporate support

Trusts & asset protection

International wealth planning can extend beyond corporate structures.

- A trust structure should always be designed around the client's circumstances and objectives rather than simply selecting the jurisdiction with the lowest taxation

Foundations

Private foundations can provide an alternative approach to international wealth and succession planning.

- family wealth
- succession
- asset protection
- governance
- charitable purposes
- long-term asset management

International asset protection

International asset protection is increasingly important for entrepreneurs, investors and families with substantial or internationally diversified assets.

- trusts
- foundations
- holding companies
- international companies
- segregated structures
- investment vehicles

Free zones & special economic regimes

International business opportunities are not limited to traditional offshore jurisdictions.

- corporate incentives
- foreign ownership
- customs advantages
- investment incentives
- international business infrastructure
- simplified company formation
- access to specific financial centres

International investment structures

International investors increasingly require structures capable of holding and managing assets across multiple jurisdictions.

- investment companies
- holding companies
- international accounts
- multi-currency solutions
- private wealth structures
- family wealth
- international investment vehicles

Private wealth & family structuring

International wealth planning is not only about taxation.

- wealth preservation
- succession
- asset protection
- family governance
- international mobility
- investment diversification
- banking
- business continuity

A 360° international approach

One of the principal advantages of working with Fintech SCB is the ability to address multiple aspects of an international project through a single professional platform.

1. Initial consultation — Understanding your objectives, financial situation, business activities and international requirements.
2. Jurisdiction analysis — Identifying the countries and jurisdictions that may be appropriate for your objectives.
3. Residency — Evaluating international residency opportunities where appropriate.
4. Corporate structure — Selecting and establishing the appropriate company, LLC, holding or international business structure.
5. Banking — Identifying suitable international banking solutions.
6. Wealth structuring — Considering trusts, foundations, holding structures and other wealth-management solutions where appropriate.
7. Legal support — Coordinating the required legal and professional services through the appropriate specialists.
8. Ongoing support — Providing continuing assistance as your international business, financial and personal requirements evolve.
